Forecast For The United Kingdom
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Monday 07 Jun 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Showers in the east, some thundery, otherwise fine and warm.

Today:
Any early fog patches and low cloud burning off to leave warm sunny spells. Dry for most in the west and south but showers developing in eastern England and eastern Scotland, some heavy and thundery.

Tonight:
Showers in the east dying out to leave a dry and fine night for most. Becoming cloudier across northwestern parts by morning, with some patchy drizzle for northwest Scotland.

Tuesday:
Dry and largely sunny across England and Wales after a chilly start in the west. Cloudier elsewhere with some patchy rain or showers for northern Scotland. Warm in the sunshine.

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
Mostly fine, dry and very warm in the sunshine in the east and southeast. Cloudier in the west, with rain in some northern and western areas at times.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.